Drive Carefully Or Else

SAFE VEHICLE PROGRAM TO BE ENFORCED IN EAST JORDAN

The City of East Jordan today joined over 200 other Michigan cities in a concerted effort to reduce traffic accidents by reducing the number of defective brakes and defective lights on vehicles being driven today according to Chief of Police Harry Simmons.

"Police officers will check the brakes and lights of the vehicle of each motorist they stop for a moving traffic violation and will stop all motorists driving at night with defective lights," he said.

The chief urged all motorists to have all of their safety equipment checked by their regular service man and repaired if necessary.

Our department has conducted a special training school utilizing a uniform training manual prepared by the Safety and Traffic Committee of the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police, so motorists are assred of uniform consistent treatment throughout the state.

Emphasizing the importance of maintaining a vehicle in safe driving condition, Chief Harry Simmons said, "A study of accident records shows that vehicle defects were reported in 13 per cent of the fatal accidents in 1948 in Michigan according to reports received by Michigan State Police."

This program, sponsored by the Michigan State Safety Commission, is supported by the Advisory Committee composed of 69 organizations interested in safety.

Moment Sore Throat Affects Your Children Consult Your Physician

It has been called to the attention of the Health Department by the local practicing physicians that there is a great increase this year in the number of strep throats among children with a consequent increase in the number of cases of acute rheumatic fever. One physician in the area reported ten cases this year, stating that this is more than he has had during all the other years of his practice combined. The Health Department urges you not to minimize the symptoms of sore throat in your children and to consult your family physician at its onset. We feel that by so doing the increasing incident of rheumatic fever can be minimized.

Traffic Deaths Again Increase During February

Traffic accidents in Michigan cost the lives of 85 persons in February, an increase of 21 or 33 per cent over the 64 killed during the same month last year, according to the monthly statistical report of the State Police.

There were 2,591 persons injured and 11,090 reported accidents. Injuries were six less than in February of 1948, but accidents showed a substantial reduction of 867 or seven per cent.

The fatality increase continued the upward trend begun in November. The record for the last four months shows 115 more persons killed than in the same period a year ago, an increase of 27 per cent.

All of the February fatality gain occurred on the rural trunkline system and was caused by an increase in collisions and ran-off-roadway accidents.

Most of the accident reduction was in urban areas.

The record for the first two months of 1949 shows 194 persons killed, 5,532 injured, and 22,963 reported accidents. Compared with the same period last year, deaths increased 41 or 27 per cent, injuries increased 309 or six per cent, and reported accidents dropped 2,148, or nine per cent.

Mileage for January — the latest figures available — was up five per cent over the same month last year and the death rate per 100 million miles of travel increased four per cent.

For going away the bride chose a light grey suit with black accessories. Her corsage was an orchid from her bouquet.

Bowling

April 4, 1949

Abe Cole lead the way for the Recreation with 576 on games of 189-175-212, while Wally Peacock toppled 561 pins for Brock's, having games of 176-189-196. Greg Boswell was tops for the Bank with 535 and Rev. J. M. Malinowski had high score for the Saints with 542.

Ellsworth Electric took 3 points from Norm's to put them in a tie for second place in the standings with the Canning Co. Les Arndt was tops for the Ellsworth team getting 511, while Spin Cihak led the Tavern team with 543.

In other matches for the night, the points were split between the Post Office and Thorsen's, Monarch Finer Foods and the Canning Co., and Cal's and Hillman's.

Top score in these matches went to Barney Adair, who had high series for the night, rolling games of 166-225-220 for 611, and Chris Taylor who had 532 or Cal's, Gene Teichman 531 509 or Hillman's, John Atwood 180 for the Canners, Walter Rood 519 for Monarch and Bud Brown 475 for Thorsen's.

In the Traveling league the Recreation scored a shut out over the Manistee Merchants, rolling the highest series of the current season. A 2903 total on games of 933-993-977. Aiding the cause of the Recreation was Chris Taylor's 615 and Greg Boswell's 610 series. At the present time the Recreation team is tied with Big Rapids in 3rd place, only 2 points out of first place. In addition to having the high series for the team they are leading the league with an 894 team average, while Greg Boswell is sporting a big 192 average, tops for the entire league and Barney Adair having the top series with 696.

In the Mixed Doubles tournament the standings were changed as Datha and Wally Peacock took over the top slot with 1282, having a scorching 478 game sandwiched between games of 404 and 400. Donna Anderson and Bob Campbell also moved up to 4th place with a 1227 series. The final Sunday for the tournament will be the 10th, and a large entry is expected. Many changes in the standings are likely to take place with every bowler after he big prize of $50.00 for 1st place.

In the Top of Michigan Ladies Annual Tournament held at Boyne City our lady bowlers came in for the large majority of the prize mellon as the State Bank girls took the team championship with 2768, their closest rival having 2707 which was shot by Kadden from Boyne City. Don's Bar took third place with 2702 and Bellaire 4th with 2649.

SAFE TO BUY OUT-OF-STATE SEED?

One Michigan farmer noticed that seed catalogues from other states offered red clover seed for ten dollars per bushel less than local dealers. When asked how come, Roy Decker, Head of Farm Crops for Michigan State college, pointed out that this seed is not certified, is not subject to Michigan Seed laws and doubtless will not be worth a cent more than you pay for it. In other words, use caution in buying bargain seed.

Smelt Starting to Run In Rivers and Creeks of Michigan

The appearance of a few perch and smelt runs in the rivers and creeks is raising fishermen's hopes that the big spring runs will be in full swing shortly.

To date the conservation department has received reports of the start of a smelt run at Cold Creek in Beulah (March 29), perch runs in the Saganing river (March 29) and Pine river (March 28), both near Standish, and in the Kawkawlin river near Bay City state park (March 29).

The first reavy run of smelt this season was reported (March 26) at the Duck lake outlet near Interlochen.

Hook and line fishing for yellow perch, crappies, rock bass, lake trout and white bass ended March 31 south of highway M-46 with the exception of specially designated experimental lakes as outlined in the fish law digest. Anglers can continue to fish for these species on lakes north of M-46 and can look forward to the start of the brook, brown and rainbow trout season which starts April 30 on trout lakes and streams in the same area.

Early Spring Heralds Return of Perennial Hazard — Fire

With blustery April winds drying matter brown vegetation in fields and forests, the early spring months herald the return of a perennial hazard — fire.

Alert to the danger of a small but quickly spreading brush fire, conservation officers are reminding would-be burners that fire permits are required when the ground is not covered with snow.

Although fire from all causes ravished only 14,855 acres exclusive of national forest land last year, smallest acreage burned since 1941, the conservation department's full force of 90 regular fire officers will be augmented by 37 equipment operators early this week and by 138 lookouts April 4.

The reduction of the fire toll which destroyed as high as 280,000 acres annually in the early thirties shows that modern equipment, trained personnel, adequate fire detection and suppression service pay off, according to department's forest fire chief, M. M. Bergman. With critical fire years running in eight and nine year cycles, and precipitation below average, Bergman emphasized that the department especially needs the help of campers, smokers, brush burners and the railroads to keep the toll down this year. Years of heavy losses in the past were 1925, 1933, and 1941.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Truman Ignores Program Setback, Insists Congress Is Cooperating; Approval Seen for Vets' Pension

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

PRESIDENCY:

'Say It Isn't So'

Was President Truman emulating the ostrich with the old "head in the sand" technique, or was he naive enough to believe what he was saying?

This seemed a fair question when Mr. Truman, despite multiple setbacks in congress for his legislative program, declared he and the congress were cooperating and that only "troublemakers" talked of bad feelings between them.

MR. TRUMAN had suffered three major setbacks in attempting to have his campaign pledges enacted into law. He had been blocked on rent controls, appointment of Mon C. Walgren as a key figure in the national defense setup, and civil rights proposals.

But, the President shook off these reverses by ignoring them in a speech to the United States conference of mayors in Washington.

Instead, he told the mayors:

"Of course I differ with the congress on some points and where these differences are important I shall continue to urge the course I think is right.

"BUT, BASICALLY, the congress and the President are working together and will continue to work together for the good of the whole country. We are going to agree on a lot more things than we disagree on."

Many observers took the view that the President's remarks indicated adoption of new strategy in dealing with congress—that an attitude of "soft words" might be held more advisable than angry denunciations of the lawmakers.

PENSIONS:

Who Pays?

It was beginning to appear that a veteran's pension bill in some form would be enacted by the 81st congress. Prodded by Rep. John Rankin (D., Miss.), of the house veteran's affairs committee, the measure under consideration would give veterans of World Wars I and II automatic pensions of $90 a month at age 65. Budget bureau experts contend this would cost the nation upwards of 125 billion dollars over the next 50 years.

WHO WOULD PAY the cost of the pensions? American taxpayers, of course, and among these would be all the veterans who might some day receive the bonus. As one young war veteran put it, "By the time I reached 65, I would have gone broke trying to pay taxes to grant me a pension."

That's the viewpoint of some veterans. There are many others who honestly feel they are entitled to a pension and would readily accept an "installment" tax payment period between their present age and age 65 in order to get the pension.

SOME OPPONENTS of the pension measure favored restricting pensions only to veterans of World War I, but it was obvious no such proposal as this would be enacted. There were too many World War II veterans who would oppose that simply on the principle of discrimination, no matter how they might feel basically about the pension proposal.

On the first test of the measure, it was almost lost, but swift parliamentary maneuvering saved it from being returned to committee where it might have died a natural death.

DRAFT:

Easing Off

Military draft eligibles could relax — Maj. Gen. John E. Dahlquist, army personnel chief, said no more men will be inducted into the army before July, 1950; and that's when the present peacetime draft act expires.

SO, IT SEEMED that the peacetime draft was virtually over, except for the possibility of enactment of a new act or extension by congress of the present law.

However, the national defense establishment hastened to state that General Dahlquist was giving only his opinion — that no draft policy has been laid down, and that no one knows what the future holds.

IT WAS REGARDED as significant that there have been no inductions under the present law since the end of January because voluntary enlistments have filled quotas, and army officials have said that budget reductions forced them to cut their proposed strength.

Explains Pact

Dean Acheson, secretary of state, explains north Atlantic pact at special press conference at the state department.

PACT:

Reds Burn

The Kremlin and its satellites were literally burned up over the north Atlantic treaty alliance.

To the Russians the pact was a "deceptive instrument of war aimed against them.

THE CONTROLLED Russian press and radio joined in the clamor, branding the pact as the work of war-mongers trying to wreck the United Nations.

The general theme was that the alliance was the "main weapon of the aggressive policy of the ruling circles of the United States, Britain and France.

The Russian stew was understandable. By this diplomatic coup western powers had managed to abate somewhat the legend of Soviet invincibility among the smaller countries and at the same time to serve notice on the Russians that any further violence or aggression within the pact area would mean war.

THE TERMS OF the pact do not actually say that: but they say something which is the same. That is that pact nations shall construe an attack on any member as an attack upon them all, and even the dumbest Muscovite could understand what that meant.

The treaty, however, was not without its cries at home. John Foster Dulles, slated to be secretary of state had Dewey nabbed the presidency, was anything but enthusiastic about the alliance. In fact, Dulles observations on the subject were such as to raise the ire of Dean Acheson, secretary of state, who charged that Dulles was put out because he, Dulles, couldn't get over Dewey's defeat and how he might have been secretary of state himself but for that.

RENT CURBS:

Outlook Dim

Overriding administration recommendations, the senate voted to let town and city governments abolish rent controls in their areas—if the state governors approve.

THERE WERE MANY who would discern instantly the political implication inherent in such a move. In states where governors are permitted under law to succeed themselves—and even in states which do not permit this—governors are usually concerned with re-election or with naming their successors. Abolition of rent control power could be used as a potent weapon with which to beat recalcitrant voters into line.

As anyone familiar with legislative processes knows, organizations are always the most powerful and effective lobbyists. Landlords have a national organization which already has been vociferously vocal at Washington. There has been no organization of renters and tenants, not even at the state or county level. Those who are heard in law-making assemblies are those who are organized and who know how to obtain hearings. And these organizations usually manage to do rather well for themselves.

IN WHATEVER FORM the bill finally emerges from the senate, it must go to a conference committee in order to iron out differences between house and senate versions.

States righters would herald the local option features of the control bill with elation and landlord groups would find it easier to attempt legislative pressure in their own back yards.

MEMORY:

Ours Is Short

To many who had experienced the horrors of war and who had met German foemen in battle, American policy in Germany was almost maddening. Official approval of selection of a group of ex-Nazis to manage the Ruhr—Germany's greatest war-making potential—was bringing cries of protest from all over the nation.

The grasp of the ex-Hitlerites was reaching farther and farther into Germany's vital affairs and the optimism of the group that their desires would be fulfilled was significant.

Latest manifestation of the trend was a statement by Hans Thomsen, who was the Nazis' last charge d'affaires in Washington, that he and other veteran Hitler diplomats expected to resume their careers in the "new Germany."

There was no lack of cockiness in Thomsen's stand. Said he: "The new German government cannot get along without the old Wilhelmstrasse men—who know their business." He is now in the banking business in Hamburg.

The old pattern was becoming increasingly clear. Smart diplomats, seeking a rampart against communism, were using this same objective to re-create Germany as a European power—a buffer against the Reds.

SWALLOWS:

Unfailing Legend

The old, old legend was unfailing. Always the swallows had come back to Capistrano, and this time they came again.

THE LEGEND was fulfilled to the day, Through the long, lazy centuries that the birds have always been coming back to San Juan Capistrano, their return has always been on the same day each year—St. Joseph's day.

And this year there was no deviation. On St. Joseph's day the birds came sweeping back at dawn to fly into their homes under the eaves of the historic old mission.

"They do not come in huge swarms as some reports have it," an old padre said. "Instead they arrive in small contingents, 50 to 75 at a time."

Father Hutchinson, pastor, said that the birds usually leave in July after their young can fly. They travel to nearby canyons to feed where insects are plentiful, he indicated.

BOGEY MAN:

Solons Defiant

Figuratively thumbing its collective nose at the "big man" the United States senate by a vote of 50 to 11 confirmed the appointment of Dr. James Boyd as director of the federal bureau of mines.

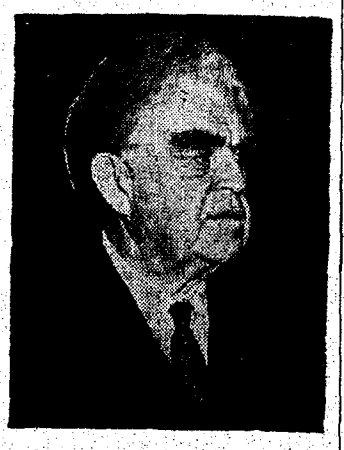

THE "BIG MAN" was John L. Lewis, leader of the United Mine Workers of America, and he wanted no part of Dr. Boyd in the federal mine regulation setup.

The senate action came while Lewis had the pressure on. Lewis' miners were in the second week of a 14-day shutdown ordered by Lewis who termed the stoppage a "memorial" to miners killed and injured last year.

Chief speculation concerned the import of the senate action. Did it mean that government, finally, was ready to clamp down on the dictatorial Lewis and abolish his power as a continuing threat to American industry?

It could mean that, if Lewis' mine stoppage resulted in a reversal of labor sentiment among some members of congress and a really "get-tough" labor law were to be enacted.

What Next?

Coal operators and coal consumers were wondering what would be the next move in John L. Lewis' campaign strategy Lewis, above, had called the miners out in a two-week stoppage which he described as a "memorial" to miners killed and hurt in 1948.

Burglar Irked

In Champaign, Ill., Carl Fletcher 23, was so irked at finding nothing worth stealing after housebreaking that he called police and reported his own burglary.

Fletcher broke into a filling station, then telephoned the sheriff and police to "come get" him. He waited for them and unlocked the door to let them in. "I just got mad," he said, "at finding nothing worth taking."

INSIDE 'SHORT' STORY

'Boss' Censored President's Swim Photos

Whatever else the incident of the censorship of pictures showing Harry S. Truman swimming in Florida may have done, it put him solid with most American males whose choice of pastime is so frequently influenced by the distaff side at home.

For, at least, the secret of the confiscated photographs was out—and the gentleman who broke the "inside story" was none other than Mr. Truman himself.

It wasn't censorship at all, the President said, which caused presidential party attaches to seize photos taken of Mr. Truman while he was swimming. It was just that Mrs. Bess Truman doesn't want her husband traipsin' around clad only in bathing trunks, and Harry S Truman jolly well knows it

SCRIPTURE: Mark 10.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Mark 9:33-37.

Range of Religion

Lesson for April 10, 1949

ONCE THERE WAS a farmer who owned a large farm. Its wide acreage was divided into pastures and fields and a garden and orchards and hog-lots and chicken-yards and so on. But whenever any one would ask the farmer about some particular part of the farm, he would answer, "That's not my business—that's only the orchard, it isn't the farm;" or "—That's not the farm, that's a flock of sheep," or a rye field or whatever it might be. Of course such a farmer never lived, or if he did, he should have his head examined.

Dr. Foreman

What Does Religion Cover?

YET THAT FARMER is not a bit more idiotic than a Christian who, when asked about this or that activity or aspect of life, answers, "That's not religion. I have no interest in it." Religion isn't a little fenced-off pasture for lambs, a tiny garden plot behind thick hedges.

Religion covers the whole farm, every bit of life from end to end. Jesus knew this very well. He never once refused to discuss anything on the ground that it was not religious.

He cast light on everything that touched him. He called his followers the "light of the world." Not flashlights, shining in one narrow beam! Not flashlights, but lamps, set on a lampstand and "giving light to all who are in the house."

• • •

The Light Of God

A GOOD cross-section of Jesus' methods and ideas can be seen in Mark 10, into which one chapter Mark packs his whole account of a number of weeks which Jesus spent in the region called Perea. Observe the variety of situations which confronted Jesus. First there was a question about divorce. When they brought that question up to Jesus, he did not dodge it. He did not call it a personal matter in which he, as a teacher of religion, had no interest. He did not say it was strictly a matter for the civil courts. You may read what he did say in Mark 10. You will not that first of all he brings God into his answer.

Religion And Little Children

THIS CHAPTER includes the famous story of the little children who were brought to Jesus—evidently quite small children, for Jesus lifted them into his arms. We do not here Jesus saying, "Children are too small for me to take any interest in them. Wait till they are older. What good can religion do these tiny tots?" On the contrary, Jesus not only blessed them, but held them up as models for older people.

Is your church following Jesus here? Is your church interested in the little children as much as it is in the "paying" members?

Or are the little ones shoved off into some damp corner of the church basement? In your state or province, do the Christian people take an interest in the children? Do children in your section get as good attention as pure-bred cattle do?

• • •

As Wide As Life

THEN THERE WAS a question about eternal life. Of course Jesus answered that one, it was obviously a religious question. (Except that he gave it what some people even today would consider a not very religious answer!) Jesus went on to talk about money and the effect it has on a man's prospect of eternal life. Jesus would be the very last person to imagine that a man's bank account has nothing to do with religion. Some people to this day don't like to hear a preacher mention money in his sermons. Well, such people might have been offended by Jesus, for he often preached about money and property.

Then there was the question of ambition, the audacious request that James and John made of him. He had some strong remarks to make about that.

And finally at Jericho, not long before Palm Sunday, there was the blind beggar Bartimaeus. Jesus did not say to him, "Health is no affair of mine. I cure souls, not bodies."

The curtain arose, revealing a large chorus of boys upon the platform, supported by the men of the East Jordan Glee Club. These led the congregation in singing the new battle hymn of the temperance reformation "The Whiskey Shops Must Go," to the tune of Old John Brown. This followed by another campaign song "Save The Boy," sung by Tom LaLonde, Homer Maddock, Bert Dole and H. Sloan. W. E. Malpass talked upon "The Value of A Man", E. N. There has been some phone calls and letters this week concerning the meat cookery lesson during lenten season. Because we have an April meeting planned on the subject of "Remodeling Clothing" and we want our Achievement Day early in May, we must get our "Meat Cookery" lesson to the groups before the April project. I plan to demonstrate the cooking part of the lesson and it will consist of half meat dishes and half egg. It everybody happy? One more thought about the meat lesson. Since all of you seem to enjoy new recipes, I want you to cooperate with me on a small cook book. If this were a contest where we had to send in a box top I'll bet I would get entries by the "millions." So just pretend this is such a set-up and send me your favorite egg, meat or fish dish recipe with your name and address and then in return you will get a booklet containing all the recipes and the names of the ladies who sent them. This recipe will be in connection with your meat lesson. I will be interested to report how many recipes I have next week by this time. Send the recipes to me at the Boyne City Office.

I held three classes on glass etching this week in Charlevoix County. I met with the Charlevoix group on Tuesday. They enjoyed their Economy Meal dinner at noon and did glass etching in the afternoon. On Wednesday afternoon the E. Jordan group met with Mrs. Ida Kinsey and at night the Sunshine group met with Mrs. Lulu Clark. Both groups did glass etching.

Do you know that: Slow and steady is the rule to remember when cooking bacon and sausage.

Shiny surfaces reflect light, thereby increasing the apparent size of the person who wears them, and accenting the poorly proportioned features.

The average person consumes 20 pounds of coffee and only ½ pound of tea each year.

Color of egg shell is no indication of quality.

Modern power resources and mechanical conveniences for the home offer each American family the equivalent of 40 slaves.

Here is a very tasty dessert:
2 large bananas, diced
1½ t. orange rind, grated
6 T. orange juice
3 T. sugar
2 T. cornstarch
¼ t. salt
1½ c. milk
2 egg yokes, slightly beaten
2 egg whites
2 T. sugar
3 graham crackers, finely crushed (optional)

Combine bananas, orange rind and orange juice. In a double boiler combine sugar, cornstarch and salt. Add milk gradually, cook until it thickens. Slowly stir into egg yolks. Cool until thick, about 2-3 minutes. Fold in fruit mixture. Chill. Gradually add sugar to stiffly beaten egg whites, fold into custard. Put into sherbet glasses, sprinkle tops with cracker crumbs.

Winner, Fourth National AAA Traffic Safety Poster Contest.

April draws most of Michigan's bicycyists out on streets and highways. Elaine Havelock of Cass Technical High School, Detroit, must have known this and also that most bicycle accidents involve school age children. She drew the above AAA national prize winning poster, 9,000 copies of which will hang in Michigan schools in April. The "One On A Bike" rule is one of 12 recommended by Automoblie Club of Michigan for cycle safety. The others are: (2) ride near the curb; (3) stop before entering streets; (4) obey traffic rules; (5) keep safe distance from other cars; (6) don't "hitch ride"; (7) be alert; (8) watch for turning cars; (9) wear something white at night; (10) special caution for rainy days; (11) know motorist's signals; and (12) know bicyclist's signals.

Clara Brown, home economics teacher, accompanied a group of girls to the third annual State FHA convention in East Lansing, March 24 and 25. Regional President Ruby Gibbard, Jeanne Olstrom, Janet Flora Alice Gibbard and Mae Evans were those who attended the convention. Mrs. Brown states that the students were selected for the trip on the basis of service to the home economics classes, committee work and all around contributions of FHA projects.

A Hard Struggle

"Prices don't seem to go down, do they, Mrs. Riggs?"

"No they don't Mrs. Diggs. Like I was saying to my man the other night, after we pay our income taxes, keep up the installments on our apartment house, buy a few bonds, put the boys through college and buy our clothes, what have we left?"

Public Posing

One day an acquaintance remarked in the presence of Sarah Bernhardt that she could not account for the peculiar manner in which a certain vain young woman had lately been acting.

The great French actress intervened.

"I can," she replied. "The other day someone told her she had a beautiful profile, and ever since she has been trying to live sideways."

Pronunciation Difficulty

Way out West there is a small railroad station named E-U-R-E-K-A. The conductor and brakeman never have agreed as to the correct pronunciation of the name. The result is, the conductor comes through the cars announcing: "Your-a-liah, Your-a-liah."

The brakeman follows right on his heels, calling with great fervor, "You-really-ah, You-really-ah."

DOUBLE TALK

The boss, leaving the office, told his new secretary, "I may be back this afternoon. And then again, I may not."

The girl nodded. "Yes, sir," she said. "Is that definite?"

Overworked Cliches

On a bus, two shop girls were heard discussing the art of conversation.

"Mame," said one, "take 'I'll say' and 'I'll tell the world' away from some people and you cut their conversation practically to zero."

To which her companion enthusiastically rejoined, "I hope to tell you! Ain't it the truth?"

Sonny's Complaint

Sonny, 6, greeted his father with: "I don't like mommy any more. She spanked me twice today!"

"That's tough, son," said his dad. "Do you want me to get you a new mother?"

"No. I guess not," mused sonny. "It's taken me six years to get used to this one."

Music Appreciation

At the end of a concert a couple of ushers were applauding harder than anybody else.

People in the audience smiled appreciatively at the actions of the true lovers of music when one of the ushers suddenly stopped applauding.

"Keep clapping, dope," the other said sharply. "One more encore and we're on overtime."

FARM FACTS from your County Agricultural Agent

Nitrogen Fertilizer for Hay Crop Silage

If you're thinking of putting up some grass or hay crop silage this year you should give the hay field a shot of high nitrogen fertilizer. You can do the job anytime now that you can get on the field.

Here are some points to observe: Don't use a fertilizer with a low analysis of nitrogen, it won't do a bit of good. Use something with ten percent or more nitrogen content. Ammonium sulfate or nitrate contain plenty of nitrogen to do the job — Pick a good hay field. Apply at the rate of around 200 pounds per acre. Don't overdo this thing because you may get more hay than you can handle. Be sure you know where you're headed. The first cutting will be rather wet so be sure you get it into the silo at the right moisture content.

Fruit Folder Aids Small Producers

Growing fruits for home consumption is thrifty and enjoyable. But the backyard grower has to face the same insect pests and diseases that plague the commercial fruitman.

To aid the small grower in protecting his apples, pears, quinces, peaches' plums, cherries, and small fruits, the Michigan State College Cooperative Extension Service has re-printed the popular folder F-17 "A Pest Control Program for Home Orchards and Small Fruits."

A copy may be obtained from the County Extension Office at Boyne City.

Soil Testing Dates

Farmers who are interested in having soil samples tested for lime and fertilizer requirements are asked to remember the following soil testing dates: Wednesday, April 13, Boyne Falls High School, 9:00 to 12:00 a. m.

Wednesday, April 13, Charlevoix High School, 1:30 to 5:00 p. m.

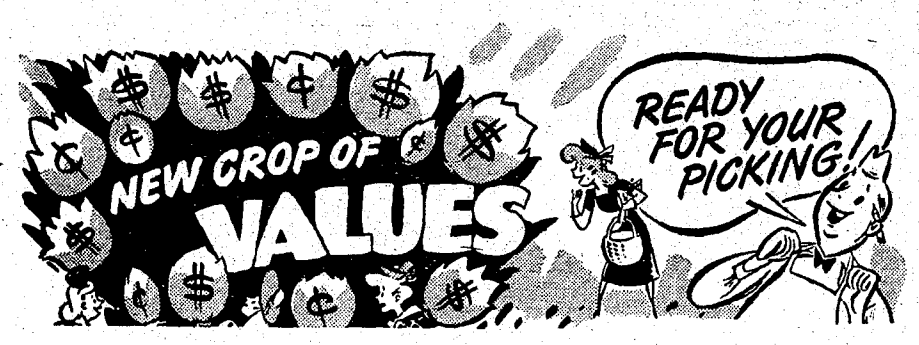

Thursday, April 14, Boyne City High School, 8:30 to 12:00 a. m.

Thursday, April 14, East Jordan High School, 1:30 to 5:00 p. m.

If anyone is unable to go to the school nearest to them, they are very welcome to come to one of the other places. Be sure to take as many samples as you need and take as representative sample as possible. Ed Longnecker, Extension Specialist in Soiles will be present to make these tests and to give fertilizer recommendations.

Ed Rebman,
County Agr'l Agent.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Whiteford and son, Garry, of Flint, were week end guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Whiteford. The occasion was to celebrate the birthdays of several members of the family. April 5th was the birthday of Harold, Thelma and Elmer Whiteford and Mrs. Harold Whiteford's birthday is April 8th. Local Option. The all-absorbing question in Charlevoix County. And the man who has succeded in remaining non-committal must be a natural-born dodger. See the new DESOTO before you decide on any other car at any price!

Compare the others with "The Car Designed with YOU in Mind"

You cannot compare the new cars merely by looking at pictures . . . or by watching them on the highway. You've got to get behind the wheel yourself.

That's why we urge you to come and see this new De Soto before you decide on any other car.

You notice the difference right away. De Soto's doors are wide. You walk in . . . and keep your hat on. The steering wheel doesn't hit your knees. You're on chair-high seats, so that you get all the benefit of the larger windows and windshield.

You've got full stretch-out leg room, front and back. And you've got more luggage space in that flush-floor trunk than you ever dreamed of before.

Yes, De Soto is lower. It's got a longer wheelbase (all passengers ride between the axles). But there's no penalty for these advantages. Overall length and breadth are not increased. You needn't rebuild your garage. You can still change a tire. And a dented fender doesn't mean an expensive body repair job.

Let us show you all the new features of the car that lets you drive without shifting. Compare it for beauty, comfort, safety and value. Then decide.

He pointed out that buildings of all types should be planned with the idea of saving as much labor as possible.

Mr. J. M. Moore, Extension Specialist in Poultry, Michigan State college discussed the construction of Poultry Houses and principals involved in the matter of making Laying Houses warm. He emphasized the importance of making the Poultry Houses rat proof and providing ample floor space and ventilation. FIRST and SECOND Grades — Adeline Bowerman

After seeing the picture of the French Canadian children and their interest in making maple syrup and reading in our Weekly Readers about gathering sap and making syrup, we were anxious to visit a sugar bush in our own vicinity. On Wednesday afternoon we went by bus to the Len Swafford farm. Before we went we organized and read our own story about "Going to a Sugar Bush." We had certain things to look for including "signs of spring." On Thursday we had four gallons of sap to boil down. On Friday afternoon Donnie Bowerman brought us an ice cream treat for his 4th birthday. Each one agreed that maple syrup is delicious on ice cream. In numbers, we learned about quarts and gallons, in spelling we learned several new words relating to the project, in language we wrote a "thank you" letter to Mr. Bowerman for showing us about making maple syrup. In reading we not only gained knowledge of several new words but are finding that reading to gain information about certain things is fun.

We decorated our room for Easter with lilies and bunnies. In story time we are hearing the Bible stories which led up to the Easter story.

Steverson came from a family of famous lighthouse builders. He wrote two books called "An Indian Voyage" and "Travels With a Donkey". He wrote a book about "Treasure Island" which made him famous. Before he died he wrote what he wanted on his tombstone. He died, but his poems live on. They continue to live in the hearts of boys and girls. — Sharon L. Hayes.

Plow Ssares Need Check

The plow is the number one piece of equipment on most farms and with proper care it will last for years. But Jack Schram, agr'l engineer at Michigan State College, says farmers sometimes allow plows to get in bad condition and thereby increase their work.

The share is a vital part and should be checked before spring work starts and repointed or resharpened. If it is needed, a new share should be installed. A dull share usually causes poor penetration and may greatly increase the draft of the plow.

List Common Rates For Custom Work Result of Survey

Farmers who are planning spring farm work on a custom basis will be interested in the results of a survey made by the farm management department at the Michigan Agr'l Experiment Station.

B. R. Bookhout and R. W. Christian, research specialists in farm management at MSC, sent out questionaires to more than 1,000 farmers. Answers show what farmers are charging for custom work on early spring jobs.

The custom rates in the southern half of the lower peninsula are usually on an acre basis since land is more uniform. Elsewhere the rates are mostly on an hourly basis because of a greater difference in field conditions.

For plowing with a two or three-bottom plow, four dollars an acre was the most common rate reported. On an hourly basis, the most common rates were three dollars an hour for two bottom plows and four dollars for three-bottom. Lower rates were sometimes reported for particularly earsy fields. Some farmers charged 50 cents more per acre for plowing alfalfa sod or stony ground.

The most common rate for disking was three dollors per hour or one dollar per acre. In the southern part of the state, the eight-foot disk was most common. Smaller disks were reported in the north. The most common rates for disks seven feet or under were the same as for larger disks, but less work was done per day.

Th most common rates for three-section dragging were three dollars per hour or 75 cents per acre. Rates for four-section drags were commonly given as three and one-half dollars per hour or 75 cents an acre.

SMELT SEASON SUGGESTS TASTY LENTEN MEALS

Whatever your plans for Lenten menus you will delight your family if you serve them the fish of the season — smelt.

If you live in Northern Michigan you may be attending a "smelt jamboree" but you can easily treat your family to the mild little fish at home. Smelt are easily cleaned and can be served in many ways.

For a variety of recipes for cooking smelt write to the Bulletin Office, Dept. of Public Relations, Michigan State college, East Lansing, for the attractive folder illustrated in color. Ask for Experiment Station Folder 8, "Fish Recipes — Smelt". All recipes have been tested by the foods and nutrition department working in cooperation with the zoology department.

Recepies for frying, broiling, baking and pickling smelt are included. Sauces are recommended for smelt because they are so mild in flavor. Recipes for a variety of sauces are given.

Smelt ranges from 6 to 14 inches and usually run from seven to nine inches. It is easier to clean the larger smelt. It is not necessary to scale them. Simply remove the head and the entrails with a knife.

Insist on fresh smelt because the oil essential to the rich flavor evaporates easily and is not found in stale fish. It is available fresh from Feb. to late March when the sportsmen take it during the spring spawning runs.

Frozen smelt are wholesome but lack the characteristic flavor of the fresh fish now being taken from the Great Lakes.

LESS BLUE IN WASH DAYS FORECAST

A brighter "sock brigade" and less "blue" wash days are in store with the increasing supply of vat dyed cotton hosiery coming on the market.

If you have had the discouraging experience of opening up the washing machine to find a colored sock staining your husband's white shirts you will appreciate this news from Lola Belle Green, extension clothing specialist at Michigan State college.

Fast colors in cotton socks are gradually coming in the stores. Look for the words "vat dyed" on the labels. They are your best guarantee of colors fast to washing and sunlight.

Until about a year ago, the only vat dyed cotton socks were a small part of children's anklets and crew socks. These were limited to striped or aggyle patterns. During the past year more vat dyed children's and infant's socks have been produced in plain colors.

Vat dyes are now making their way into the men's cotton hosiery field. While they are not widely available now, they should be in good quantity within the year.

Since most labels disappear after a few washings, it might be well to label vat dyed socks with colored thread so you will know which ones may be safely thrown in with the regular washings.

FROZEN CAKE MAKES THRIFTY USE OF FREEZER

If you have unused space in your home freezer why not use it for storing baked products — cake for instance. Cake can be successfully frozen either before or after baking.

Chief advantage of freezing baked products is the time and energy you save by making several at one time. Then, too, you're always prepared for unexpected company and busy day meals suggests Mary Katherine Knight, frozen food researcher at Michigan State college.

Butter and sponge types of cakes generally are more successful when frozen after baking. Frozen unbaked cakes have a much shorter storage life. Whether you freeze the batter or the baked cake you should package it in moisture-vapor-proof material. Placing the cake in a box after freezing helps protect it.

Unbaked batter may be frozen in two ways — in a cardboard freezer carton or in a baking pan. If you use a carton, select a type easily filled and emptied. When ready to use, thaw the batter just enough to remove it from the carton. Transfer it to the baking pan to finish thawing.

If you freeze the batter in a pan, wrap the pan and batter in cellophane. Heat seal it and freeze immediately. Thaw the batter before baking to avoid humps. Bake the batter as soon as it is thawed.

Thaw frozen baked cakes at room temperature in the package for 1½ hours. If you want the cake frosted before freezing, butter frosting is best. You may prefer frosting your cake after removing it from the freezer.

Dear Editor:

After reading some of the contributions to your letter box I find them neither interesting or amusing, but pitiful.

I came here in 1887 when this was a thriving community. I can admit I am an engineer with experience very few people have had. I have worked for the largest corporations in the world. I have seen industry rise to mass production and have seen small plants taken up by large corporations, only to be left to rust down and leave the population without any means of making a living. I have been in most sections of the U. S. and some of Canada, but nowhere have I seen a spot with the natural resources and opportunity as East Jordan.

Inasmuch as the present administration has borrowed Herbert Hoover to furnish the engineering brains to reconstruct the government, I think I am entitled to a saying President Truman read at the dedication of Everglades Nation Park: "Conserve your natural resources. There are those who would exploit them for the benefit of a few." — Think it over!

Let your slogan be — East Jordan FOR EAST JORDAN PEOPLE. California's Native Sons made California. Cooperation is the word!

Did anyone every try to promote anything like getting Norman Bartlett, Billy Porter, Francis Lilak, Harold Moore and Percy Riness with their equipment. They could start a sand and gravel business which would bolster the fallen arches of the E. J. & S. R. R. and incidentally be one of the leading industries of today, plus cement products and possibly a cement plant. About 15,000 feet of logs are lying in the bottom of the lake, besides what is in the river. Key West dug out one boat well and got $2000.00 for the marl. If the marl isn't good or cement, it is for fertilizer.

Has anyone ever attempted to stem the tide of $200,000.00 that goes out of here every year to mail order houses, or the $100,000.00 that goes to neighboring towns?

The Farmer feeds the world said Henry Ford. The Farmer practically feeds East Jordan. He supplies the Canning Plant with the vegetables and fruit to keep it running. He also supplies cream to the Creamery to keep it running. The Co-op Co. also furnished a market and employs quite a few people.

The Malpass Boys have come a long ways and deserve a lot of support. They employ a good many people the year round. As a manufacturing concern they are bound to have slack times and have to lay off help. It might be possible to add to their output.

What I have in mind, however, is a shopping center as well as marketing center.

I could name a great many small businesses mostly pertaining to food products, which would employ a few persons permanently, while if you had a factory employing 150 persons it could shut down anytime and throw them all out of work.

SOIL TESTING ARRANGED FOR ANTRIM COUNTY FARMERS

Arrangements have been made by Walter G. Kirkpatrick, County Agricultural Agent, to have E. D. Longnecker, Extension Specialist in Soils, Michigan State College, spend two days in Antrim County testing soil samples.

Monday and Tuesday, April 11 and 12, are the days Mr. Longnecker will be present. Plans call for him to spend a half day in each of four places as follows:

Monday, April 11, 9 to 12 a. m., Basement of the Court House, Bellaire.

Monday, April 11, 1:30 to 4:30 p. m., Chestonia Town Hall, Alba.

Tuesday, April 12, 1:30 to 4:30 p. ers Exchange, Ellsworth, 8:30 to 11:30 a. m.

Tuesday, April 12, 1:30 to 4:30 p. m., Milton Town Hall, Kewadin.

Nitrogen Soils will be tested for lime, phosphate and potash and fertilizer recommendations made.

It is expected that farmers will avail themselves of the opportunity of having their soils tested at one of the places and the time most convenient to them.

Samples of soil should be taken that will be representative of the entire field. That can best be done by using a spade to secure a slice of top soil perhaps six to eight inches in depth, mix with a sterile tool and put a half pint of the mixed soil in a sterile container.

EVANS Oil Burning Space Heater. Cannot be told from new, used two seasons in summer cottage in resort season only. Also 50 gal. drum with faucet. Will deliver. — PAUL LISK, phone 67, East Jordan. 45atf
